Clean Environment, Bio Diversity Indicators, Native species and Ecosystems

Bio diversity indicators identified and reported in the production reports for the companies in Brazil and Sri Lanka: Not applicable to the importing company.

Macro Organisms: Not applicable to the importing company

Invertebrates/ insects: Not applicable to the importing company

Vertebrates: Not applicable to the importing company

Woody plantation: Not applicable to the importing company

Non woody: Not applicable to the importing company

Aquatic organisms: Not applicable to the importing company

FGP crops under Organic / Bio Dynamic production

Agricultural crops as mentioned before are produced in soils of enhanced biological activity determined by the rich conditions of the soil ecosystem, its humus levels, aggregate structure and feeder root development, without any chemical treatment. The tree crops are fed through the soil ecosystem and not via any soil fertility enhancement or usage of soluble salts added to the soil. Plants and soils are treated with compost when required only.

The production method is forest garden production that takes place on the basis of EEC Regulation 834/2007.

Bio dynamic process methods do not take place.

Fair Trade Social practices / Social Criteria, Economic Benefits:

The management in the exporting countries is responsible for the farm, the small farmer groups, the processing unit and export of processed products. The management ensures that a share of the profitability is repatriated to the production & processing areas. Auditable records are maintained to ensure full confidence of the farm workers, process unit workers and the customer.

The management in the importing country maintains auditable records to ensure full confidence of the staff, storage unit workers and the customers as per the prevailing International Labour Organization and the Regulatory body for Fair Trade Social criteria of the Government of France.

The Fair Trade Social practices:

The management of the licensee SARL Guayapi ensures that the rights of the small group holders, the farm & the process unit workers as well as the owner's rights are recognised in a mutually satisfactory manner and by regular dialog, with premium prices paid for the production & processing of Forest garden organic agricultural products.

The lands and the process units inspected under these standards are not sub-leased to other operators and maintain clean environmental and safe & healthy working conditions, as required under International Analog Forestry network (IAFN) Fair Trade Socially responsible standards.

To every extent possible employment is on a recognised employment relationship as per the National law with regular wages, over time etc paid are recorded. Working hours and overtime comply with the National law and are recorded. The wages paid and recorded are above the National wage rate.

Workers do not have to lodge deposits or original identity papers, are not physically or sexually harassed or discriminated and can leave their employment giving reasonable notice.

Child labour is not allowed to work in the farmer lands and processing units and consequently does not contribute to the detriment of the education and development of the children.

Forced, prison or bonded labour too are not engaged nor employed in the lands or the process units.

Consequently a good and responsible social policy is implemented in keeping with IAFN Fair Trade Social criteria to ensure secure livelihoods and sustainability.

The Economic Benefits accruing to the workers have been recorded as briefly detailed
